4. The Minister of State for Parliamentary Affairs briefed the Committee that the Bill was necessary in order to remove some lacunas from the existing Oil and Gas Regulatory Authority Ordinance, 2002. Representative of OGRA stated that the Bill was regarding fixing of gas prices. In practice the OGRA sends proposals to the Government which has to approve and notify the prices. However, if the Government fails to approve and notify/advise the prices within the given time of forty days, or notify after forty days, then the people resume to litigations for declaring the notification after forty days as illegal. So the amendment is aimed to empower the OGRA to notify the prices in case the Government fails to notify.

5. After detailed discussion, the Committee decided to put the Bill to vote, whereupon the Bill was unanimously passed by the Committee as introduced in the House. The Committee approved presentation of report in the House.
